Waterfall
Laura Lane

The water pivots
one moment serene
being pulled
from the space above
then pivots
into freefall

like thousands of its friends all launching themselves from the safety of the plane to the freedom of the air as they skydive down
to their next adventure tumbling as they land

not on hard earth
but into the pool below tossed under the surface then floating serenely on until pulled once more